

You Brought This on Yourself addresses the issue of hate crimes against the LGBT community.

It's a hard-hitting 50-minute play that can be performed by your students and faculty as a staged reading with little preparation.

The play has been performed on 10 separate occasions and is adaptable to theaters, black boxes, libraries, and classrooms.

George will also come to your school and direct the production.